Your free one year registration of your dog's microchip begins on the date your dog registration is issued. It can be renewed annually with payment of the fee in effect at that time. Renewals are the sole responsibility of the dog's owner. Transfer fees of the dog's DRA registration do not include transfer of the microchip registration. A new annual microchip registration and fee is required on transfer of the dog at the option of the new owner. The DRA is neither responsible for nor guarantee the retrieval of a lost dog. Microchips are not gps tracking devices. Microchips are electronic devices that can be read by an appropriate scanner. As there are numerous manufacturers of microchips and scanners, you may also want to register your dog's microchip with the manufacturer
